Mastitis control in dairy herds

Mastitis cases will affect the profitability and quality of the milk you produce. Your cows, udders and teats are amongst the most important assets on your farm. Our udder hygiene formulations are all developed with optimal teat condition and udder hygiene in mind. In addition to our products, our field representatives supported by laboratory services are able to help with challenging milk quality and udder hygiene issues. In the event of any serious problem please feel free to contact us directly as our years of acquired experience make problem-resolution one of our specialties.
